Solid Rocket Booster (SRB) Transition –The Ares & SRB communities have been working to determine which Shuttle assets no longer required to fulfill the Shuttle manifest, will be needed for Ares. To date, 1367 line items (44,579 piece parts) have been transferred to Ares totaling $19.9 million of hardware. An evaluation is currently being performed to determine which SRB assets should go to Ares once the Shuttle completes its manifest. A final asset transfer agreement between both programs will occur once that analysis is complete.

Gap Analysis – The Future State is how the organization and the work will be structured after a project is fully implemented. The Present State is how the organization and the work are structured now. Compare the Future State and the Present State to determine the “gap” between the two. Closing the gap is the central work of Change Management.

Anger is a normal, healthy emotion when expressed appropriately. It can be damaging to the self and others when not expressed appropriately because of the internal stress and tension it causes as well as predisposing the person to “blow-ups” with others. Chronic anger and hostility are related to the development or exacerbation of a number physical symptoms, illnesses, and diseases. A person has a choice in how they evaluate a situation. Appropriate management of anger will decrease stress.
